WHISKY WAR NOT ENDED.

Advance in Price of Corn Cause of $1.26 Base.

Peorla, Ill., May 11.-The report from New York that the war between the Whisky Trusts and Independents had ended brought out general denials from the independents in this city to-day. The real reason, they say, is the increase in the price of corn, and that if the cereal continues to increase in price another raise in whisky will be quoted.

"With every advance of 4 cents in corn." said W. S. Parry, secretary and treasurer of the Clark independent house, "whisky ought to go up one cent, but with the advances of corn, of late whisky men had not kept pace. They have not raised the price, but instead have lowered it. With a basing price of $1.55, distillers will come out about even but with conditions as they have existed for come time whisky has been selling far below the cost of manufacture."

Summer R. Clarke, head of the house, said that the raise in price would not necessarily mean the end of the whisky war. Other whisky men are of the opinion that the new price is only temporary and will be subject to flucuations. porary and will be subject to flucustions.

WHEAT GRADING SUIT HEARING

Case Set for Trial in Circuit Court To-Morrow. Attorney General Hadley called at the Courthouse vesterday and neked that the suit of Thomas Akin against the Board of Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners, the State Grain Inspector and his deputies and the St Louis Merchants' Exchange to restrain the grading of "Red Russian" wheat as "No. 2 red winter" wheat, be set for trial to-morrow. The case is pend-ing in Judge Douglas's division of the Cir-set for trial to-morrow. The case is pending in Judge Douglas's division of the Circuit Court.

The Attorney General represents the defendants. The case was set for hearing to-morrow, conditioned upon the other side being ready for trial.

A temporary restraining order having been issued, the grading and classification of "Red Bussian" wheat is materially interfered with until the case is disposed of. Upon the decision may depend, in a large measure, whether there will be a "corner" in No. 2 red winter wheat, which has been sold, deliverable this month.

Akin alleges that there is a scarcity of No. 2 red winter wheat, known as "native" wheat grown in the Mississippi Valley.

The "Red Russian" wheat is grown on the Pacific Coast, and sells for several cents a bushel less than No. 2 red winter native wheat, it is alleged.

There is a movement, Akin alleges, to compel purchasers of No. 2 red winter wheat to receipt for "Red Russian" wheat in satisfaction of their contracts.

It is claimed, on the other hand, that "Red Russia," wheat is classified simply as red winter wheat the grade to be determined by inspection.
